

Exclamatory Sentences

Rewrite It

Read the following postcard from one friend to another. The writer seems excited about her trip, but doesn't express it in her writing. Rewrite the postcard changing declarative sentences to exclamatory ones.

Dear Linda,

I'm having a wonderful time in Florida. The weather is fantastic. It's been sunny every day. We went swimming in the hotel's pool on Tuesday. Then, on Wednesday, we actually swam in the ocean. Tomorrow we are going to visit a marine animal sanctuary. Do you remember studying about the rescued marine animals in school? I can't wait to see the fish and animals. I wish you were here. See you soon.

Drew

Try It

Write a postcard to a friend or relative about a trip you have taken recently. Make it exciting by including exclamatory sentences. Make sentences exclamatory when you really want them to stand out.
