

Gas

Gases have no shape, size or color.
Gases are all around us. The air you breathe is a gas. You can feel gas when the wind blows. Air is many gases mixed together.

CHANGING STATES OF MATTER

Some matter can change. Draw what you think would happen if you brought a snowball into your house and left it on a plate.

I think the snowball will _____
