

Mixtures are combinations of _____, _____ and _____. After combining two ingredients, if they keep their original _____, they are called a _____. When an ingredient in a mixture _____ keep its physical properties it is called a _____. Every combination of things is a _____. Some are _____. When a substance _____ into another substance, it does not _____. It bonds to or _____ evenly throughout the liquid, forming a _____. To separate a solution, it is necessary to _____ the solution, _____ the liquid and collect the substance that was

A _____ is what gets dissolved.

water is the universal _____.